Skies cleared Tuesday afternoon and the snow rapidly disappeared under the sun's influence.

Interesting Meeting Reid Hill W.I.

The October meeting of the Reid Hill W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Clark on Wednesday afternoon last, with ten members in attendance. WEDDING

HORNER - CLARK

The home of Mrs. Lola Clark, Lethbridge, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday, October 15th, at 3 p.m. when Rhule Margaret, only daughter of Mrs. Lola Clark and the late Alec Clark, formerly of Vulcan, became the bride of Earle Kitchen Horner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamling of Wetaskiwin. Rev. H. A. Mutchmor officiated.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, Grant Clark, was gown in a floor length model of traditional white satin with sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves complimented by matching shoulder length veil caught by a beaded headress. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias.

Miss Catherine Grant of Vulcan, the bridesmaid, wore an ice blue gown of silk jersey complimented by matching shoulder length veil and headress. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Mr. L. Trochstedt of New Dayton was groomsmen.

Rev. Victor Smith played the wedding march.

For the reception following the ceremony, the room was decorated with a profusion of fall foliage and flowers. Mrs. Clark, receiving the guests, with the bridal party, chose a navy blue ensemble and wore a corsage of tea roses. Mrs. Edward Hamling, mother of the groom, chose a navy blue ensemble and wore a corsage of talisman roses. A three tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table, which was decorated with white and pink carnations and candles. Rev. H. Mutchmor proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom very suitably replied.

The young couple left by car for Great Falls for travelling the bride wore a brown gaberdine suit with matching and gold accessories. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Horner will live in Dayton.

175 purebred cattle sold at Macleod brought $32,255.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have not been invited to attend Princess Elizabeth's wedding. Well we won't go either, just as a form of protest.

Attempted to Force Canadian to Marry Him

Francis Hearn, of Los Angeles, is pictured in the San Diego, Calif. county jail calmly puffing on a cigarette. He was caught at the international border after allegedly forcing Miss Victoria Clifford, a Canadian girl who lived in Los Angeles, at the point of a knife to accompany him to Tijuana, Mexico, where he wanted her to marry him.

Cavalcade Speakers At United Church

Those attending the Cavalcade meeting in Vulcan Tuesday, Oct. 14 were given many interesting sidelights into world conditions and the place of Christian missions in a world of turmoil. Mrs. R. W. Robertson spoke to the women and with Rev. T. B. McMillan and Dr. G. Agnew entertained the school children. In the evening the men spoke again.

On Wednesday, Oct. 15, two car loads motored to High River to see the Cavalcade display. They attended mass meetings in the town hall, where Dr. Bob McClure of the International Red Cross, who is also a United Church missionary in China, spoke on conditions in China. Rev. A. Roddon of Vancouver told of the practical work being done among the people in distressed city areas.

Health Classes Next Tuesday

The Legion has kindly granted the use of its hall for Health and Recreation classes, two evenings a week. These classes will begin next Tuesday evening for both sexes. The ladies' class will begin at 7:00 o'clock and the men's classes at 8:30. Organization and registration will feature the first evening and classes are open to all ages. There are no fees or dues and as large an enrolment as possible is desired. Instruction will be in charge of J. Lundy Findlay.

Whale meat looks like liver and is said to be welcomed by British households for steaks.

Russell Libsack, 2-year-old boy of Champion died in a Calgary hospital through a peanut lodged in his throat. Two emergency operations failed to dislodge it.

Elks' Hold Successful Carnival.

Last weekend saw the staging of another successful Elks' Carnival. Unfinished harvesting cut down the attendance, but under the capable direction of Floyd Atkinson all booths and concessions operated smoothly and a tidy profit was realized by the Elks for their Memorial Park fund.

Six valuable door prizes were given away each night in addition to the grand prize of a chest of silverware, which was won by I. Larkins of Vulcan.

The co-operation of the members of the Lions Club and other citizens who gave unselfishly of their time is much appreciated by the Elks and contributed in no small way to the success of the carnival.

The carnival secretary was Gordon Clayton, replacing Dave McAfee who for many years acted as secretary of the annual carnival and who is now ill in hospital.

Music for dancing was furnished by Dave Brooks' Merry-makers.

Order Water-Sewer Materials For Delivery June Next Year

If Sewer Pipe Available Will Be Ready To Proceed With Construction

Approval has been given by the town council for the placing of orders for all materials needed for construction of the water and sewer system, with a delivery date of July, 1948.

Although delivery of sewer pipe, the order for which was placed some months ago, is not promised before March, 1949, there is the possibility that cancellation of orders from other towns may allow earlier delivery, and for this reason the 1948 delivery date has been specified on the orders for other materials. The orders provide that the June delivery date may be altered if necessary, to correlate the arrivals of all materials.

Placing of these orders now ensures that the town will not be held up for other materials should sewer tile-become available at an earlier date. Once all materials are stock-piled here and the contracts let, construction and installation work can be completed in approximately five months, according to the engineers in charge of the project.

Frank Hoskyn Gains Degree

At the fall convocation of the University of Alberta, held at Edmonton last week, Frank William Hoskyn, 23, of Vulcan was admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Education and the Senior Diploma of the Faculty of Education.

Mr. C. H. Hoskyn, accompanied by Henry Hanson, attended the convocation exercises.

Also awarded the Degree of Bachelor of Education and the Senior Diploma of the Faculty of Education was Orval J. Doney of Edmonton, a former member of the Vulcan teaching staff.

Mayor Allan First Bowler

Donily's Bowling Alleys opened on schedule last week, with the first ball being rolled by Mayor W. D. Allan. A large crowd attended on opening day and the alleys have been well patronized ever since. Four members of the town council, P. McAskile, A. G. Saxby, Keith Elder and Mayor Allan participated in one of the first games.

The new concrete block building houses six fine alleys and the forming of various leagues is now being undertaken.

Anglican Broadcasts

The Pro-Cathedral Church of the Redeemer (Anglican) Calgary, has been broadcasting its Sunday morning services for some years over C.F.A.C. for the benefit of country listeners and "shut-ins." They are anxious to know how these broadcasts are being received, and would be very glad indeed to receive letters and comments thereon from any who would be good enough to write them. Letters may be addressed to The People's Ward, Paget Hall, Calgary.

Give Fire Fighting Demonstration At School Grounds

A public demonstration of fire fighting methods was recently conducted by the Vulcan Fire Brigade at the school grounds.

Just before the demonstration, Fire Drill was conducted at the School by the Fire Chief and methods of evacuating the school buildings observed. The little ones took the honors for speed in leaving the school building.

Times were as follows:

Grades 1 and 2 : 21 seconds
Grades in Brick School: 32 sec.
Grades in Old School: 30 sec.
A talk was given all grades on methods of leaving school buildings and safety measures to be observed.

A bonfire of tires, old lumber, and oil was then started in the school yard and Mr. Majakey turned in the alarm to which the Brigade responded, reaching the scene of the blaze and having the water on the fire in one minute and thirty seconds. The spectators then witnessed the extinguishing of a fire in a large pool of gasoline and kerosene on the ground, using the new fog nozzle.

On Wednesday of last week Fire Underwriters Inspector sounded the fire alarm in the forenoon and the brigade turned out in jig-time.

Full crew for the big truck was on hand in 36 seconds and for the pump truck in 41 seconds. The equipment was then tested by the Inspector and found in excellent condition.

The following suggestion is made for those who may have occasion to turn in a fire alarm. Simply call the telephone operator; tell her the location of the fire, and she will do the rest. It is best not to call the Fire Hall. Citizens are also requested to refrain from using the telephone for at least fifteen minutes after the fire siren sounds, thus giving the operator time to call the Brigade. Co-operation of citizens in this matter will be appreciated.

Shower Held For Bride-elect

A shower was held at the Church of Christ on Tuesday night in honor of Miss Viola Loxton, a bride elect of this month. Fifty friends gathered to convey their good wishes to the bride-to-be. Several appropriate contests were enjoyed by the guests during the evening. Following two vocal solos, "I Love You Truly" and "Just A Wearyin' For You," beautifully rendered by Mrs. Gordon Gardner, Miss Loxton was led to a chair fittingly decorated with pink and white, where she was presented with a large basket of gaily wrapped gifts. Miss Loxton was assisted in opening the gifts by her mother and Miss Connie Hoskyn.

The guests were thanked for their kindness by Miss Loxton and were invited to visit the bride and groom in their new home. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies, following this the evening was brought to a close with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" and a prayer by Rev. Chapman.

TAX STRUCTURE

A commission in Edmonton, serving under the deputy minister of municipal affairs has been receiving submissions from a number of organizations all concerned with the question of taxation, and the necessity of relieving real property from an overwhelming and increasing burden.

The Edmonton school board in asserting that the existing tax set up leaves real property saddled with the main cost of education, urges amongst other things, that the business property of the provincial government be made subject to taxation.

The city of Edmonton suggests a permanent provincial-municipal tax commission that could study equitable forms of taxation such as a provincial sales tax. A recommended type of sales tax would be similar to that imposed in Quebec, collected by the province and distributed to municipalities in relief of property taxes.

The Alberta Teachers' Association, which has long recognized the heavy educational burden borne by real property, comes forward with a recommendation that a special one-cent tax on every glass of beer would be a substantial help in school financing. Another suggestion is that an over-all provincial mill rate for education be based on total requisitions, and distributed according to the number of children enrolled in classes.

Again the Alberta School Trustees' Association has emphasized its contention that the provincial government carry at least half the cost of primary and secondary education.

There have been briefs submitted by municipalities also bearing on financing, and re-affirming beliefs that are generally held. One argued that road grants from the province to municipalities should be based to some degree on the revenues taken from the municipalities wherever required. Another recommendation on the same line was that 25% of revenues from gas and motor vehicle tax should be returned to municipalities, with the province undertaking construction of main highways through towns and villages.

The city of Edmonton maintained that the existing tax burden on land was discouraging to home ownership, as well as to commercial and industrial activity.

The commission which has been engaged in regional hearings over the province, will soon be in position to assemble recommendations which will give a fair picture of what the Alberta electors consider to be in general interest in respect to taxation. There are few new recommendations, but it is apparent that all bodies are concerned with the mounting tax obligations placed on land. The provincial government has taxing resources other than real property, and may be persuaded by force of public opinion to explore these other avenues. Steps may also be taken to give a fairer share of gas revenue to the municipalities. Such commissions serve at least in informing the government of general sentiment, and are of value as a guide in future legislation.

Pertinent Topics

Discussed by H.C.

A retired master mariner of Hampshire, England, has put his finger on at least one cause of the crisis: "It came," he writes "with the knowledge to some men that the gift of the gab was an easier way to earn a living than hard work." That gift of the gab by which some men gained Cabinet rank is now being exploited to get other men to work harder, after having used it previously in urging them not to work so hard or so long.

Municipal elections in Rome registered an even break between Communists and Christian Democrats. If Russia had been in occupation there, the Communists with their superior system of democracy would have got 99% of the total polled vote.

Left wing M.P.'s at Westminster are calling for abolition or reform of the House of Lords. If they really mean it no time should be lost in pressing for action before that venerable chamber becomes cluttered up with Labor peers.

Christmas Trees

The Boy Scouts will be making a door-to-door canvass, to take orders for Christmas trees.

Sayings and doings of Soviet delegates at Lake Success suggest that they cut out vodka and caviar and make a fresh stand with pabulum and lactogen.

An iron-monger is not a man who talks about war but a man who deals in iron. So with a war-monger. The Americans whom a Soviet delegate stigmatized as war-mongers never started a war in their lives, while the Soviets started at least two—one against Poland and one against Finland. According to James Byrnes, they started another war against themselves when Molotov angered Hitler by talking to him the way all dictators learn to talk.

"Leave Palestine to the Jews," says a correspondent of the New York Times described as an authority on the vexed Palestinian question: If that implied leaving the Jews to the Arabs it would offer a solution, but when the British give up their mandate the Jews will expect the U.N. to carry on. They have no intention whatever of taking on alone the job of quelling an Arab revolt. Bishop Renison argues that Jesus Christ was an optimist. And faith He will need to be when He observes how things are going in Palestine.

It seems that the only way to get a Soviet delegate to say yes is by asking him if he will have a swig of vodka.

It must confuse and confound European Communists to reflect that they they must look to capitalistic countries for rescue from famine, but that reflection never occurs to Communists in capitalistic countries, or, if it does, it does not disturb their bovine minds.

Under the Soviet system of elections, voters have the privilege of selecting from a list of candidates who are Communists, or non-party men approved by the party. Such being the case, any friend of Russia who can hear without anger Soviet leaders prating about their superior form of democracy has lost his moral sense or his capacity for righteous indignation.

The allegation by Soviet delegates that their frequent use of the veto is caused by Anglo-American conduct gives no thought to the unities, and is in line with other allegations that something they did was done in reprisal for something the reactionary nations did ten or fifteen years later. They can make arguments and excuses of that nature knowing they will be accepted and preached by their satellites everywhere.

When Russia sided in with the United States on the Palestine question, a lot of Americans must have had an uneasy feeling that they were in the wrong pew. And so they were, and so they are. Russia was certain to take their side when they proposed that 150,000 Jews be admitted into Palestine and that also that country be partitioned. They would agree also that Britain remain in occupation until the U.N. can take over. That would be right in the Soviet mitt in which a wedge is held in readiness to drive into any cleft between the two western powers.

It all arises because an election is coming on next year, and the Hebrew vote is on the auction block. Last year just before the mid-term elections Mr. Truman embarrassed Britain by suggesting that one hundred thousand Jews be admitted. Not to be outdone in generosity Mr. Dewey suggested two hundred thousand. With the next election in view Mr. Truman now adds fifty per cent to his former bid. The Republicans are yet to be heard from and the Soviets, ever eager for mischief, stand ready to add their own ingredients to the evil brew. If war should break out between Jew and Arab, the Soviets will be tickled to death, especially if it should be serious enough to call for armed intervention. Palestine is just the spot where they would like to have Muscovite legions tramping on doing the will of the Politburo.

Impressions Of Prairies

(From Fergus Record)

The visitor from Ontario is apt to be struck by the bare and inhospitable appearance of the average farm on the prairies. The houses are mostly small and built of frame or logs. There are no flower gardens. Nearly every house needs paint. They look like temporary dwellings rather than homes. Many have a few scrubby trees around them but little attempt at decoration. Barns are small. At this season of the year, the large fields are dotted with straw stacks. Beside each stack is a small granary. These granaries appear to be on skids, so they can be moved anywhere on the farm. There may be three or four stacks and granaries in a single large field. Evidently the threshing machine is moved around from place to place, so the sheaves will not have to be hauled too far.

Of course, there are many better farm houses and barns, some of them quite attractive, and in some cases, the best possible use has been made of the available trees, of which only a few kinds thrive on the prairies. But we gained the impression (which may be wrong), that most of the people don't intend to live all their lives on the prairies. They may have to, but that is not their intention. They want to make as much money as quickly as possible and go away for the winter, or retire to Vancouver, Victoria, California or

It was agreed the members assemble at the Blusson School Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 22nd, to clean and do some redecorating in preparation for the social gatherings to be held there during the winter months, by the club. Mrs. Geo. Smith assisted her mother in serving delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. Schmelke.

Mr. I. Dittio of Calgary is a business visitor and enjoying the good hunting in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Clements were Calgary visitors for two days last week.

Geo. Depue of Stavelly was a business visitor recently.

Mrs. P. Dawson and Mrs. C. G. Taylor were hostesses at the Silver Collection "come and go" tea, in aid of the Woman's Association of the United Church, Friday afternoon, Oct. 17th, at the home of the former. Mrs. G. Orr presided at the daintily appointed tea table, which was centered with a low crystal bowl of shasta daisies. Other garden flowers were tastefully arranged throughout the living and dining rooms. A group of high school misses assisted in serving the guests, from 3 to 6.
About $16.00 was realized from the tea.

Foothills Health District*Report of Work of Past Three Months in Foothills Health District. Nutrition Survey, Child Welfare Clinics Well Attended.

In the report of the work of the third quarter of the year presented by Dr. Jackson, M.H.O. at the board meeting of the Foothills Health Division, mention was made of the nutritional survey carried on in the district.

Miss Mary MacBeth, senior research nutritionist of the Dept. of National Health, headed the party. The health district was divided into four areas, Longview and Royalties, High River, Okotoks and Queenstown-Milo. During July a preliminary survey was made with 25 families in each area signifying their readiness to co-operate. Then in August, Miss MacBeth and her party of several assistants, including Miss Norma Hogg, revisited each family and got the survey under way. A record of diet was kept for one week in summer, with a similar record for a week in the winter. Finally, Dr. Pett and Dr. Hanley of Ottawa will examine all those participating.

The purpose is to obtain an overall picture of the dietary habits of Canadians, with a view to correcting faults or deficiencies. Such surveys have been carried on in B.C. Saskatchewan and Ontario.

Communicable Disease

The report referred to the favorable quarterly record in respect to communicable disease. There were only 23 reported cases in the three months, all being measles or whooping cough except for two cases of mumps and one of whooping cough. The Mobile X ray unit visited Milo in July taking 280 plates, of which 13 showed abnormalities. Fourteen high school students were X rayed in June and four in July, finishing off the high school. Tuberculin survey began in May. In addition 30 contacts were X rayed.

Child Welfare

Fifty-six Child Welfare clinics were held during the quarter and 734 attended. In July a new clinic was opened at Red Deer lake, and has been well received, with 41 having attended the two clinics.

An investigation was carried out in the use of Wetzel Grid card for evaluation of growth in school children. Some 105 cases were reviewed and 60 children examined. A report on this was given by the Medical Officer at the recent convention in Edmonton.

Miss Margaret Hutchison joined the staff on July 10, 1947, with a creditable record of experience.

Statistics

During the quarter, there were 355 infants, and 339 pre-school children in attendance at the 56 child welfare clinics held. A total of 328 attended the T.B. clinics. There were a total of 849 home visits paid in relation to child welfare, communicable diseases and miscellaneous visits.

There were 20 adult examinations made during the quarter.

In the work in communicable disease there were 294 immunization doses given of diphtheria toxin; 16 of scarlet fever toxin; 25 of smallpox vaccine; 272 of whooping cough vaccine; 4 of typhoid fever vaccine, and 1 anti measles serum.

Income Tax Ruling

The federal income tax division has announced a new ruling of interest to grain producers.

The essence of the new policy, which had been urged on the Dominion government by the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, is that grain grown before 1944, but not sold until 1944 or 1945 because of quota restrictions, may now be credited for tax purposes to the year in which it was grown.

This means that if a farmer sold 1942 grain in 1945, thereby putting him in a higher 1945 income tax bracket, he can now apply that 1942 grain to his 1942 income. This would have the effect of reducing his 1945 tax and increasing his 1942 tax.

If a farmer finds that by so doing he will be financially better, he has an opportunity of availing himself of this new ruling, but he is not compelled to do so.

There were 27 tuberculin tests, 3 Schick tests and 3 Dick tests. Laboratory service included 13 bacterial water tests; a total of 126 milk tests, and 3 Haemoglobin tests.

Sanitary Inspector

The sanitary inspector's work included inspection of 64 restaurants and hotels; 31 dairies; 1968 private premises. There were 32 complaints received and one of these unjustified. Twenty-three septic systems were examined. Other inspections were made to auto camps, nuisance grounds; butcher shops, slaughter houses, locker plants, bakeries, ice cream and confectionery businesses dairy bar and swimming pools.

Financial

Receipts from August 1 to August 31 totalled $5693.22, including sale of car $1100; provincial treasurer $1750 and the balance from contributing areas.

Disbursements included salaries amounting to $2,014.89. This was made up as follows: Health Officer $960; nurses $601.89; stenographer $210; sanitary inspector $243.

Further expenses included $818.25 for car allowance, health officer and sanitary inspector; purchase of car $1069; refrigerator $272.50; printing supplies, office upkeep and such miscellaneous items.

Twelve Laws Affect Veterans

At the last session of Parliament twelve laws or amendments were passed affecting veterans. Most of these were covered in principle by Canadian Legion resolutions.

The following is a list of the twelve items affecting veterans passed in the recent Session:

1. Amendment to Professional and Business Loans Act—Permitting loans in cases where veterans had already financed an undertaking from their own resources, and permitting loans to partnerships.

2. Amendment to the Civil Service Superannuation Act—Permitting war service to count towards pension in cases where the civil servant was appointed for the first time subsequent to discharge from the Armed Forces.

3. Amendment to Civil Service Superannuation Act—Permitting retirement at the age of 60.

4. Amendment to the Civil Service Act—Allowing annual increases to temporaries as from April 1st, 1947.

5. Amendment to the Civil Service Act—Granting the preference to members of the Canadian Armed Forces without pre-war domicile, who have subsequently become naturalized.

6. Amendment to the Civil Service Act—Permitting a veteran who resigned a permanent position to serve in the Armed Forces to apply for reinstatement in the class of position from which he resigned and at the salary he was receiving at the time of his resignation.

7. Amendments to the National Housing Act—Embodying in part some Legion proposals, namely, establishing a 95% loan, amortized over a period of thirty years; the 95%—however, applying only on the first $3,000.00 of the value; 85% on the next $3,000.00, and 70% on the balance.

8. Enactment of the Army Benevolent Fund Bill—The provisions of which follow closely the proposals made by the Canadian Legion before the Parliamentary Committee.

9. Enactment of an Order-in-Council—Permitting extension of full allowances to disabled pensioners undergoing training.

10. Inclusion of a Veteran Preference for employment in the leg-

East of Calgary May Get Power

The Calgary Power company is prepared to supply electrification to a large number of farms in the areas directly east of Calgary if a sufficient number of farmers sign up under the plan.

The area will be east of Calgary to Carleton Place and from Keoma south to the Bow River. About 500 farms will be served with electricity if the negotiations between the farmers and the power company are successful.

It is the largest single rural electrification planned to date.

Preliminary arrangements were made at a meeting of district farmers held at Dalemead Saturday night. Don J. McKinnon of Carleton Place acted as chairman and after officials of the power company had explained the project in detail, a provisional committee of farmers was set up to complete the arrangements.

There are three power lines at present in the area, two of which were constructed during the war and are government owned.

Farmers in the area affected will be canvassed and if a sufficient number of signups are obtained, the project will be completed at an early date.—Calgary Herald.

isiation dealing with forest protection and conservation on the Eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains.

11. Implementation of the Recommendation of the Parliamentary Committee of 1945 regarding the use of the Re-establishment Credit to purchase government annuities.

12. Enactment of an Order-in-Council—Enabling veterans undergoing training in agriculture, at universities or elsewhere, to receive benefits under the Veterans' Land Act upon repayment of any allowances received by them or their dependents during the course of training.

Because of the decontrols and removal of subsidies Ottawa expects a 4% rise in the cost of living index. When Ottawa admits 4% the wage earner knows it will be 10% or 12%.

Wild Ducks Diminishing

There were 225 million wild ducks in North America in 1944 but two years later the estimated number was only 56 million. Weather conditions during the nesting season, and lack of feeding opportunities during fall migration was chiefly responsible.

Under natural conditions, ducks migrate at night for some 200 miles and feed and rest during the day. In thickly settled districts in Western Canada there remain few if any, natural feeding sloughs, while during the shooting season, hunters in relays keep the ducks on the wing without sufficient food available or unmolested time to eat it. The farmer with his shotgun assists during the day and takes over at night to protect his crops. So that when night comes and the ducks would naturally continue their migration they devote their effort to obtain food instead. Hungry ducks will not migrate.

In addition to the legal bag limit picked up there will always be wounded or lightly shot ducks falling at a distance, also the destruction by shooting into flocks by farmers. Again the prolonged and difficult efforts of ducks to find food caused many of them to lose their migrating urge and remain so long that a large proportion of them are caught by winter and die of exposure and starvation.

Wild life in Canada is maintained "at no expense to the government" or to the sportsmen, but at a heavy and unrecoverable loss to the ranchers and farmers. This condition has existed for years with no serious attempt to remedy it. Possibly the annual Dominion-Provincial meetings of the game officials resemble the definition of a convention. A meeting where individually the delegates can do nothing and collectively decide that nothing can be done.—National Parks Association.

Britain's Debt Overwhelming

Britain's war effort cost over 100 billion dollars. Prior to the war she was a creditor nation. When the war ended she owed an external debt of 20 billion. Amongst her creditors are India almost 5 billion; Egypt, one billion 600 million; Australia, New Zealand and Eire, one billion each; Argentina 480 million; Norway 320 million.

The United Kingdom is the greatest food market in the world. The population of almost 48 million has 93% in industrial employment, the remainder in agriculture.

The Wheat Pool Budget says: "It is important to the whole democratic world that Great Britain should regain a sound economic position because the United Kingdom is the citadel of democracy in Europe. Furthermore, Great Britain is the heart and soul of the British Empire, of which Canada is an important link. Then, from a purely selfish standpoint, it cannot be overlooked that Great Britain is the most important food market in the world. If Canada is to have a reasonable measure of prosperity her surplus agricultural products must find an outlet in Great Britain."

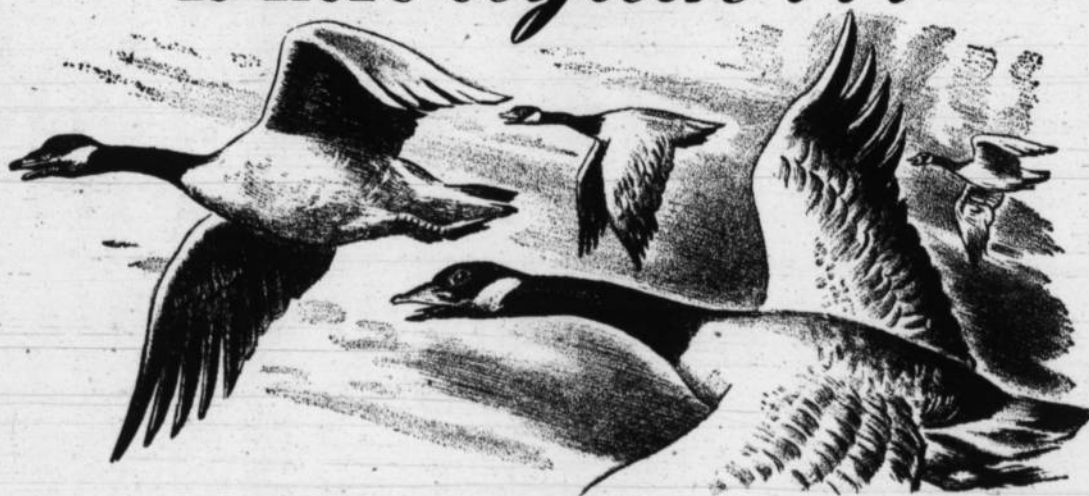

Winter Storage Of Vegetables

Storage space must be adequate, with proper ventilation and fairly high humidity. If these conditions are lacking, or are faulty, they should be corrected before storing is begun.

Whether the vegetables to be store are bought or are home grown, only products of good quality are worth storing—those that are sufficiently matured, free from insect or other injuries and diseases.

As a general rule vegetables will keep better and for a longer period if stored in slatted crates or slatted blinds to provide ventilation. Losses will be reduced considerably if moisture can be kept at a rather high level, particularly for potatoes, beets and carrots.

The walls and ceiling of the root cellar should be well insulated to prevent fluctuating temperatures and loss of moisture.

SECOND SERIES

"Treasure House Of Alberta"

In the October issue of the Canadian Geographic Journal the leading article is entitled "Alberta—Nature's Treasure House," and is written by A. J. Hooke, Minister of Economic Affairs, in the Alberta Government.

This article gives the historical background of the province, general description, outline of resources, and then more detailed description of outstanding development. It is a well written coverage, splendidly illustrated, and is accompanied by a well marked map of the province. The illustrations as well as the text provide an eye opener to readers. Even Albertans themselves scarcely realize the extent of resources, developed and undeveloped, and the remarkable range of scenery and productivity.

This summary of Alberta is recommended to the public, and particularly to schools. Even the cover page is Albertan, showing in color the confluence of the Bow and Spray rivers near Banff.

This took courage, as Mr. Fallow's riding has a big French population, but it is believed the Alberta government was in sympathy with his stand.
